After arriving at Lake Beach the party took the steamer for the Bay View House, and upon arriving there had a dress parade. The veterans then retired to the dining-room, where a bountiful-dinner was done ample justice by all present. After the dishes were cleared away a short business session of the association was held, at which it was decided to hold the next Reunion of the regiment at Utica on the 21st of August, 1884. Short after-dinner speeches were made by a number of the comrades. The remainder of the day was passed as only old soldiers who have not seen each other in over eighteen years know how to pass the time in fighting over their battles and telling personal reminiscences of the great struggle. The party returned to the city by the 8:30 o'clock train and marched to the Clinton Hotel, where, after giving three cheers for their honored president, the company broke ranks. Thus ended one of the pleasantest military Reunions that has taken place in the Flower city for a long time, and the only regret expressed was that these occasions occur only once a year.
